essay from the year 2010 in the subject politics topic peace and conflict security grade 0 87 course world under threat risk and insecurity today language english abstract the following essay argues that the most significant source of insecurity today is the threat of terrorism although the world has actually become more peaceful in terms of the actual numbers of lives lost due to terrorist attacks the consensus among western experts is that the threat of global terrorism has been increasing it has been argued that it is the very nature of terrorism that causes this insecurity they can attack anything anywhere at any time and using any means it is this unpredictability that makes countries and humans feel so vulnerable and threatened social media has played a central role in the digital era for almost a century influencing almost all aspects of life the use of social media in warfare is threatening not only one country but the whole global community is a recent development the famous speech by abu muhammad al adnani on social media inspired the bloody month of ramadan in 2016 and showed the deadly power of social media inspired attacks and what the islamic state is capable of achieving although the terrorist group has lost territory over the last few weeks of combat both in syria and iraq and is on the edge of losing their main capital mosul is still remains a hybrid threat consisting of military powers and an unmatched affinity of using social media as a cyber war weapon is will continue to be a severe danger to the global community this book aims to foster a deeper understanding of the use of social media for recruiting efforts by the so called islamic state is and to analyse its propaganda methods in order to develop possible countermeasures a special focus will be put on the method of recruitment of young western foreign fighters these individuals are the easiest to recruit for isis and pose the greatest risk to the global community especially in regards to home grown terrorism and so called lone wolf attacks since this area of research is very new and quickly evolving the field still needs extensive research it is difficult to analyse the use of social media content by the islamic state due to limited information access and flow encryption propaganda verification and inconsistency the islamic state is a military threat on the battleground as well as a potential cyber threat for the international community despite these challenging circumstances this book will provide a new theoretical model based on the marketing model of a customer journey in connection with the main principles of storytelling ultimately this research work will try to provide experts with a new and modern approach of analysis as a base for possible counter measures to weaken and combat the current threat posed by the islamic state from the text islamic state terrorism social media propaganda institutions radicalisation this important book examines why terrorism prevails in the otherwise stable and advanced democracies of western europe and why some countries have been more severely hit than others whilst western europe today seems relatively peaceful some countries in this region have in fact experienced significantly high levels of terrorism for decades moreover the threat has not only come from international terrorists operating in europe but as a result of internal conflicts which have produced terrorist campaigns conducted by groups originating in the countries themselves the author maps the trends in internal terrorism in 18 western european countries since 1950 and explains those trends both from a theoretical and empirical perspective he uses a unique data set called tweed which covers around 9000 terrorist attacks and records the activities of about 200 terrorist groups over the post war period offering a historical and comparative approach to terrorism unlike the more usual focus on contemporary threats and developments this book will appeal to political and social scientists and students especially those working in comparative politics or on the causes of conflict academics interested in european studies and more specifically the conditions and developments of european democracy and policymakers concerned with the development of the terrorist threat in europe will also find the book of great interest terrorism is a complex phenomenon that cannot be understood through reading of a number of unrelated academic articles or a dry overview of the history of terrorism or the investigative techniques for a new understanding of terrorism the editors have chosen a different paradigm they have selected numerous case studies from actual events that illustrate various typologies of terrorist actions be it from a separatist nationalist lone wolf individual terrorist religious fanatics or environmentalist orientation and they present these cases within the context of following the trajectories of the terrorist activity the terrorist act itself and the response to the event from the relevant authorities some chapters concentrate on terrorist attacks that actually took place others speculate about the possibilities of an attack occurring sometime in the future such as the chapters on the olympic games aviation or rail security when possibilities rather than a specific event are discussed the authors of these chapters draw the attention of the reader towards the same direction the reasoning the actual event and the response that followed the thorough analysis of the presented case studies and the applied counter measures will hopefully if not curtail then possibly at least mitigate the operational and ideological strength of terrorist groups or individual actors a new understanding of terrorism will enable the reader to make the connection between the emotional charge inherent in any terrorist activity the cold blooded tactics that lead to the terrorist event itself and the pragmatic and very straightforward but at the same time very simplistically designed strategic response that has to come from a synergy between academics military and law enforcement brainstorming design in order to be more effective in the future about the editors m r maki haberfeld is
